OBJECTIVE

- Redesign of PokerXFactor.com, a subscription-based online poker training site featuring play-by-play tournament critiques and lessons narrated by professional instructors.
- Requirements:
 - Update the design, UI and social media presence to more efficiently convert sales
 - Overhaul the content section; include advanced search and filtering of over 3300 videos and animated replays.

SOLUTION

- Rotating promotional space at top; permanent sidebar; four-column highlight section
- Calendar of events and industry news feed (PHP, JQUERY, AJAX)
- Responsive; fixed top navigation (HTML/CSS)

JQUERY/JSON
PHP + AJAX
CSS3 + HTML5

PHOTOSHOP
ILLUSTRATOR

- PokerXFactor needed a way to repackage older content in a new way.
- At the same time, they wanted to give users a way to create content of their own.
- Playlists provided a solution for both requirements. However, only a segment of each video was needed for each item in a playlist.

SOLUTION

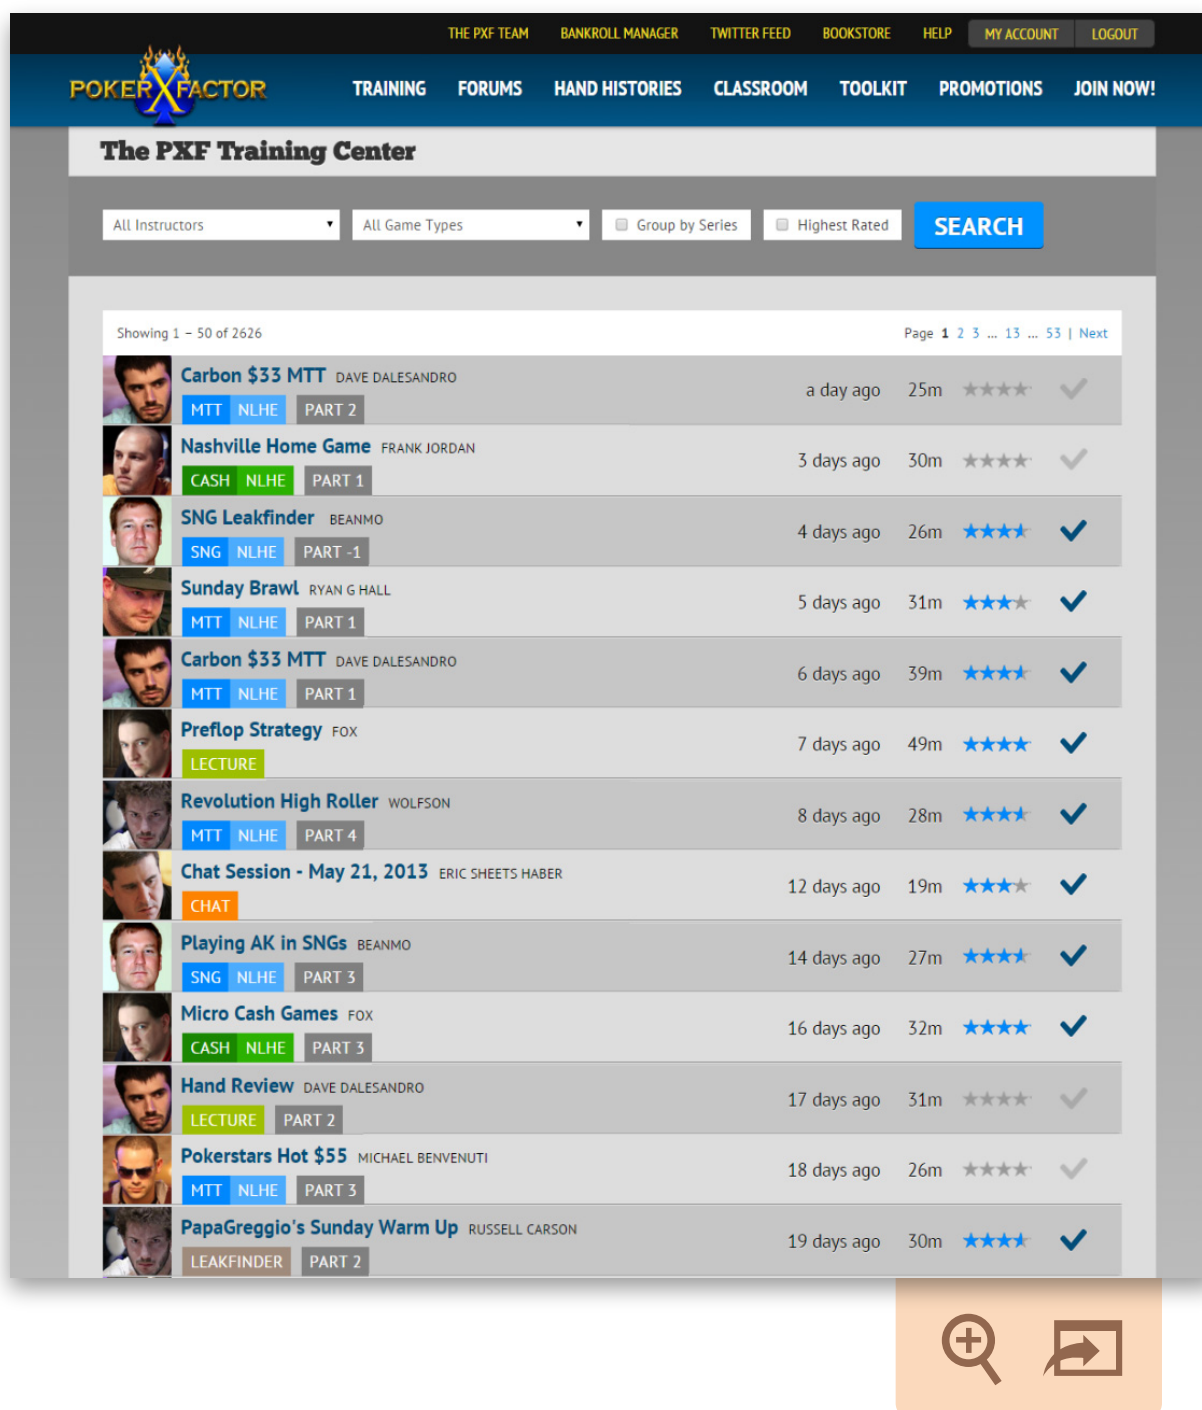

- Create API to write & return user-entered data (jQuery, AJAX, PHP, SQL Server)
- Create user interface to load and edit video segment metadata (jQuery, CSS, HTML5)
- Upgrade video player to handle HTML5 and Flash video segments. (JWPlayer, jQuery/JS)

UI/UX NOTES

- Users can edit the video segment in four ways: dragging the seek bar to a specific start or end position, pressing the spacebar to enter a position, using the up/down arrow keys to increment or decrement, or manually entering a position. Left-right arrow keys tab from hours to minutes to seconds.
- This editor is currently being refactored to function independently of the content; users will be able to create video-segment playlists from any video source.

SEARCHABLE DATA GRID

POKERXFACTOR.COM

JQUERY/JSON
PHP + AJAX
CSS3 + HTML5

OBJECTIVE

- Reorganize PokerXFactor's existing library display to be more user-friendly and engaging
- Add search and filtering parameters
- Render well at all screen sizes; layout flexibility to handle future metadata display

SOLUTION

- Ability to filter by author and gametype, group related content, and show highest rated
- Author image, color-coded gametype/episode, user rating and viewed status provide ease of identification; alternating backgrounds visually separate line items.
- Removed iframed content, replaced with AJAX/JSON retrieval

FLASH WEB APP

JAVASCRIPT

- PokerXFactor Hand Replayer: Take a transcript of a hand or tournament from an online poker session and re-animate it, providing play-by-play control
- Provide tools for analysis of play; allow typed and recorded annotations to be saved
- Phase 2: Allow instructors to record playback with voiceover onto video using additional diagnostic tools

SOLUTION

- Flash/Actionscript-based, using XML and Java servlets
- Creative and programming lead: responsible for all UX, UI, wireframing and assets
- Create dashboard for admins with additional information, animations and playback controls

UI/UX NOTES

- The replayer was designed at 1024 pixels in width; users can detach the bottom and side panels and move them around to their taste, using the "Module Mode" feature
- Playback, sound level and playback speed controls are familiar and intuitive
